FUTURE ARTIST ENTREPRENEURS

JUNE 19 – 23, 2017

Have you ever thought about selling your art? No matter what you make, this camp will walk you through the process of becoming a paid artist – choosing a name for your business, learning how to price what you sell, marketing what you make, and actually selling it at our end-of-summer craft fair! Booth space for campers is free (others may apply and pay for booth space).

Instructor: Leah Bradley.

10:00 am — 12:00 pm, grades 4—6

1:00 pm — 3:00 pm, grades 7—9

UPCYCLED TEXTILES

JUNE 26 – 30, 2017

Denim and buttons and t-shirts, oh my! In this camp you'll make all kinds of upcycled creations, using discarded fabrics and sewing notions. You'll learn basic sewing skills (using a needle and thread, how to sew on a button and making simple repairs), plus finger-weaving, basic embroidery, and more.

Instructor: Leah Bradley

1:00 pm — 3:00 pm, grades 4—6

SKETCHBOOKS & JOURNALS

JULY 17 – 21, 2017

Campers will create a one-of-a-kind sketchbook or journal, using mixed media (pencils, paint, stamps, collage), and hand lettering/doodling. Best of all, we'll do it all in an upcycled library book!

Instructor: Leah Bradley

1:00 pm—3:00 pm, grades 4—6

ME & MY AMERICAN GIRL

JULY 24 – 28, 2017

Get your friends together and bring your favorite American Girl doll (or any 18" friend) for a week of you-and-me activities! We'll make matching outfits, build a scrapbook to celebrate our special friendship, and create personalized accessories. Girls and boys, frilly and fierce - this camp is for you!

Instructor: Leah Bradley

1:00 pm—3:00 pm, grades 1—6

OCSAC CRAFT FAIR

AUGUST 5, 2017

Students, art instructors, teachers, area artists and crafters—this is your chance to share some of the beautiful things you make, at the OCSAC's end-of-summer Craft Fair! Booth space is free for students in the Future Artist Entrepreneurs camp, and available to others on a first-come-first-served basis for $25/space. To reserve yours or for more information, email Leah@makingsomethingofit.com.

MAKER MONDAYS

EVERY MONDAY, 4:30 – 6:00 PM

Maker Monday is an open art time for makers of all ages. No patterns. No instruction. Makers learn through trial and error, practice problem solving, and build creativity. Just $5 per maker. Children under 10 must have an adult co-maker (co-makers are free!).
